

Instructions: Host organisation's prioritisation list

Prioritisation list for university or research organisation that is for its part host to research infrastructure ('Research infrastructures as collaborative platforms' call)

Submission of prioritisation list

A prioritisation list must be attached to every application. It can be submitted to the Academy either by

1. Completing the information below and attaching the appendix to the host organisation's application to the 'Research infrastructures as collaborative platforms' call by the deadline set for the call

OR by

2. Indicating in the appendix that the host organisation will be providing the required information to the Academy / that it will supplement its application by submitting the completed appendix no later than 30 September 2020.

General principles

- Host organisation refers to a university or another research organisation that is responsible for the infrastructure or a part of it.
- All host organisations participating in the call must draft their own prioritisation lists.
- The prioritisation lists are appended to the application by 30 September 2020.
- An application is eligible only if all of its host organisations have included it in their prioritisation lists.

Implementation

- Each host organisation can draft two lists of the applications it wishes to commit to.
 - Applicant list (H): The responsible applicant's list includes the applications which have the host organisation as the responsible applicant.
 - Co-applicant list (O): The co-applicant's list includes the applications which have the host organisation as a consortium party, but not as the responsible applicant.
 - There is no need to justify the prioritisation order of the infrastructures. If necessary, the Finnish Research Infrastructure Committee will request justifications afterwards.
- In both lists (H and O), the host organisation prioritises its applications by placing them into groups A, B or C.
 - Group A is for applications which the host organisation considers the most important in the present call. Group A can include no more than 30% of the applications on the list. If there are only a few applications, you may place at least one application in group A.

- Group B is for applications which the host organisation considers the second most important in the present call. Group B can include no more than 40% of the applications on the list. If there are only a few applications, you may place at least one application in group B.
- Group C is for applications which the host organisation considers the third most important in the present call.
