4 Legal basis and purpose of personal data processing

The Academy of Finland is a central government authority in the Ministry of Education, Science and Culture's administrative branch whose statutory duty is to promote scientific research and research framework conditions as well as their utilisation by funding them and by participating in international cooperation. Additionally, the Academy acts as an expert in the development and implementation of science policy and carries out other tasks assigned to it (Act on the Academy of Finland 922/2009). As a public authority, the Academy of Finland must also be transparent and provide information on its activities and services (Act on the Openness of Government Activities 621/1999).

The Academy of Finland's image archive contains images and video files for communication purposes, that is, for presentation, news and communication on the Academy's activities and research funding, for example for interview articles and brochures on the internet. The processing of personal data is necessary in this respect for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest (EU General Data Protection Regulation Article 6(1)(e)).

5 Data subject groups and personal data groups

The archive contains photos and videos of persons central to the Academy's activities (e.g. Academy Professors, Academy Research Fellows, Postdoctoral Researchers, contact persons for Centres of Excellence and Academy Programmes, Academy staff members, and members of the Academy's decision-making bodies).

The personal data contained in the archive are photo, file name, name, organisation, profession/title and file details.

6 Disclosure and recipients of personal data

The Academy of Finland may disclose personal data only within the limits imposed and allowed by current legislation. Public access to government documents and information is governed by the Act on the Openness of Government Activities (621/1999).

Public documents are disclosed upon request, in accordance with section 13 and section 16 of the Act. By default, anyone has the right to receive public documents and information from a public authority, even if they include personal data. However, personal data in the public authority's personal data file can be disclosed in copy, printout or electronic form only if the transferee has the right to store and use these personal data in accordance with the regulations concerning personal data protection.

Additionally, a public document may contain confidential information or data whose disclosure is limited. Often, this information or these data may be personal data. Confidential information or data may be given access to or disclosed only with the consent of the person concerned, to the person concerned, or by virtue of a legal right to a third party, such as another public official.

The data are archived in accordance with the Academy of Finland's archiving plan and the Finnish Archive Act.

7 Transfer of personal data to a third country or an international organisation

Data will not be transferred out of the European Union or the European Economic Area, or to international organisations.

8 Planned deadlines for the deletion of personal data groups

Photo and video files are stored in accordance with the Academy's archiving plan. Photographs of national significance, such as those of historical importance, will be preserved. In other respects, the need to store photographs and videos is assessed annually.

The archiving plan of the Academy of Finland contains more detailed provisions on archiving. The Finnish Archive Act (831/1994) regulates the archiving duties of authorities.

9 Data sources when data have not been obtained from the data subject

Photographs and videos are commissioned from professional photographers and media companies by the Academy's communications department. The Academy's own staff also take photographs and video recordings as part of their duties. When material is stored in the archive, information on the photographer, the situation (event), the date and, if known, the names of the identifiable persons in the photograph shall be entered in the file.

10 Rights of the data subject

10.1 Right of access

The data subject has the right to obtain from the controller confirmation of whether personal data relating to them are being processed and, if these personal data are processed, the right to access the data. The controller must provide a copy of the personal data processed.

If less than one year has elapsed since the right of access of the data subject was used, the controller will charge a fee based on the administrative costs of providing the data.

10.2 Right to rectification

The data subject has the right to demand that the controller rectify, without undue delay, any inaccurate and incorrect personal data of the data subject.

10.3 Right to restrict processing

The data subject has the right to obtain a restriction of processing from the controller, for example, in situations where the data subject contests the accuracy of the personal data or the personal data has been processed unlawfully. Restriction of personal data processing means that the data may, with the exception of storage, only be processed with the data subject's consent, for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims, for the protection of the rights of a natural or legal person, or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or a member state.

10.4 Right to lodge complaint with supervisory authority

Every data subject has the right to file a complaint with the supervisory authority, in particular in the member state in which they have their usual residence or workplace or where the alleged infringement has occurred if the data subject deems the processing of personal data relating to them to infringe data protection legislation. This right is without prejudice to other administrative appeal or legal remedies. In Finland, the national supervisory authority is the Data Protection Ombudsman, tel. +358 295 616 670 or tietosuoja@om.fi.
